Prohibitionists Caucus—Certain Names on Republican Ticket Placed on Prohibition List Also.

Keeping up their fight bravely another year, the prohibitionists of the town of Windham placed a ticket in the field Saturday night to be voted on at the town election next month. Last time the prohibition party polled a total of 56 votes, doubling the number received at the election preceding, and this year they are out determined to keep up the work in a proportionate degree of advance. The prohibitionists will see to it, also, that there is a vote on the saloon issue in Windham this fall. Their petition for a no-license vote has received some three hundred signatures, over the requisite number necessary to insure the vote, and today it will be duly filed according to the law. Hon. H. H. Spooner of Kensington will be brought here to speak against the saloons on the Sunday before election and there will be other ways taken to keep no-license before the eyes of the voters of the town.

Ernest P. Chesbro, republican nominee for first selectman, was placed by the prohibitionists on their ticket for the same office, and two other republican nominees were given prohibition nominations. Dr. Frank E. Guild and Mrs. Katharine J. Spaulding, for members of the town school committee. The prohibition ticket was filed as follows: Assessor, J. D. Conant; board of relief, Frederick P. Davoli, Carl Oman; selectmen, Ernest P. Chesbro (r), Leander P. Austin; town clerk, Cassius A. Barstow; town treasurer, Cassius A. Barstow; agent of town deposit fund, Charles B. Willard; auditor, George H. Hall; collector of taxes, Sherwood B. Doolittle; constables, C. L. Clinton, Harry L. Tatem, Steven J. Davis, Henry E. Anthony; registrar of voters, William E. Dainton; town school committee, Frank E. Guild, Mrs. Katharine J. Spaulding. The town committee was authorized to fill any vacancies that may occur in the nominations.

Republican Caucus at Mansfield.

Seventy republicans turned out in Mansfield Saturday afternoon for the annual caucus at 3:30 o'clock in the Spring Hill town hall. Prof. A. G. Guiley of the Connecticut Agricultural college acted as moderator, and the following ticket was placed in the field after a session entirely harmonious: Assessor for three years, George W. W. Wildes, two years, C. C. Davis, three years, Rev. Leonard Smith; selectmen, Edward K. Whitehouse, John S. Barstow, Eugene Hasel, Charles M. Sears; town clerk, Bradley M. Sears; agent town deposit fund, Bradley M. Sears; members town school committee, George H. Allen, Rev. Leonard Smith; tax collector, William A. Weld; auditor, F. W. Millard; constables, B. Shuman, Eugene Hasel, Charles M. Hall, George E. Jacobson; grand jurors, Albert E. James, Byron O. Moore; registrar of voters, F. W. Millard.

Windham Democratic Caucus Tonight. The political pot will get a little more boiling tonight at the democratic caucus of Windham. The issues of the party are not as divergent from those of the rest of the other organized voters that the meeting has assumed any exceptional importance, but there is interest centered on the question of who is to get the place of first selectman. It is a $900 a year job that those who are on the outside say that it is easy money, although some of those who have held it would probably not coincide. Any incumbent hasn't been pushing to get the post again, and it is stated that James F. Musgrave is willing to take a shot at the office. That will be one of the things that the democratic voters are to decide. The board of aldermen's monthly meeting comes at the same hour on the floor above at the town building, but in the interests of good government this usual occurrence will most likely be adjourned to give way to the unusual.

A. T. Co's Fire Brigade Has Clambake. The fire brigade of the American Thread company opened another of its annual bakes Sunday afternoon. The grove near No. 4 mill was the place where the members of the brigade had their outing, and there they had a big gathering, which included the overseers of the mill and a number of invited guests, among whom were Mayor Dunn and other city officials. The events of the day went off with precision and everybody had plenty to eat and lots of amusement.

FUNERALS.

Miss Fannie Grinnell. The funeral of Miss Fannie Grinnell, who died on Saturday morning at the Norwich state hospital, was held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the parlors of Undertaker H. N. Fenn on Church street. Rev. William F. Rowley, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted the services and friends acted as bearers. Burial was in the Willimantic cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Rowley read a committal service at the grave. Miss Grinnell was 60 years of age and was born in Rhode Island. She was a sister of the late Mr. John Tew of Willimantic and is survived by several nieces.

Salvatore Mazzola, Jr. The funeral of Salvatore Mazzola, Jr., infant son of Salvatore Mazzola, of No. 31 Brick Row, was held at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the home of his parents. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery. The child died on Saturday morning.

EDWARD LONSDALE JAILED.

He Denies First Story About Stolen Car—Machine Claimed by Owner.

In police court Saturday morning Edward Lonsdale, who said his home was in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was presented before Deputy Judge Frank P. Fenton on the charge of intoxication. He was arrested by Officer Victor Enander Friday morning and at that time admitted to Chief Richmond that he had come from Auburn, R. I., near Providence, in the Ford automobile that was found abandoned on the road to Windham and was identified as a car stolen from New Bedford. He said then that he rode with a mechanic from Providence, named Frank Brown, who, he said, took the car from its Massachusetts owner.

But in police court Saturday morning, sequestered by 24 hours in a cell, he said he did not know the car was stolen and he was unacquainted with the driver. His story was that he was going along the road from Providence with his old home in New York state in his mind. Automobile seemed speedier and easier than walking and he asked the lone chap who was going by for a ride. They got to Willimantic Thursday night and when Lonsdale had no money with which to put up at a hotel, they parted by a road. They got to Willimantic Thursday night and when Lonsdale had no money with which to put up at a hotel, they parted by a road. They got to Willimantic Thursday night and when Lonsdale had no money with which to put up at a hotel, they parted by a road.

Deputy Judge Fenton fined Lonsdale $5 and costs, amounting to $11.60, and, since he was devoid of money, the prisoner went to jail.

The owner of the stolen car, Mr. Roberts, came from New Bedford Friday night and "forded" back on Saturday. The police of that city are investigating the case and in Lonsdale they have a witness. They can put their hands on when he's wanted.

James B. Fullerton in Line for Promotion.

James B. Fullerton, a Willimantic dry goods store proprietor, became a member of Company L at its meeting last week, and it is intimated that he is a likely candidate for one of the lieutenancies now open in that company. Co. L is planning for a carnival in November at the armory and to make for increased activity in the way of military duty, a prize of $25 has been put up for the squad having the best percentage in deportment, knowledge, attendance and appearance.

Farm Attached for Wages Claimed.

At daybreak Saturday, Constable Thomas J. Killorey jinked out to the farm of Samuel Rapoport in Pleasant Valley at the end of Ash street and placed an attachment to the amount of $40 on property of his. The action was in behalf of Michael Rager, a New Yorker who went to work there recently and claims that Farmer Rapoport refuses to pay wages that are due him. The case comes up before Justice George H. Allen of Mansfield on September 5. Rager and the constable brought in Mr. Rapoport's horse, harness and wagon and placed them in Johnson's stable as security.

REC WEDS AGAIN.

Divorced Friday, Married Saturday—Bride 27.

Joseph Rec, divorced Friday in the superior court at Endam from Mary Rec on the ground of desertion, Saturday afternoon was a married man again. He got a license the first thing Saturday morning at the town clerk's office and at 1:30 Justice of the Peace Charles A. Cogan joined him and Josephine Twarok together in his office, with friends of the couple as witnesses. They gave their ages as 27 and 25, respectively, and their residence as 15 Yellow Row, Willimantic. Rec has been arrested and has served a jail sentence for living a dissipated life and has been out less than a year. His first wife, from whom he has just received his separation, is in Poland.

Y. M. C. A. PROJECTS.

Big Chorus Planned—Other Work for the Season.

A male chorus of 40 voices under the direction of Charles H. Caswell is one of the projects of the Willimantic Y. M. C. A. is planning for the coming indoor season. Assistant Secretary F. E. Hart is about to visit the chorus and make definite plans for the coming indoor season. At this session plans for the fall and winter will be gone over and decided upon.

Among the classes that will be talked over are those in mechanical drawing, draughting and manual training, and a business course and definite educational committee early this week and at this session plans for the fall and winter will be gone over and decided upon.

An English class for Italians is to be another new feature of the local Y. M. C. A. work and possibly scientific classes. Lonsdale said if the class works out there will be other equipment whereby plenty of practice in sending and receiving messages may be obtained.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Phil Harris. Carrie E. Harris, wife of Philip Harris, of Temple street, died Saturday morning at the Norwich state hospital. The body has been brought to this city by Undertaker Jay M. Shepard and will be buried in the cemetery at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. She was 54 years of age and was survived by one sister and three brothers. There were no children.

Emeralds Win Again.

With the score 6 to 1 against them in the ninth, Hamel's clout over third base and a home run by the Emeralds returned the Emeralds to the winners in another of a long chain of nearly a score of victories. They have gone through the season with a defeat by New London the only loss that mars their record. The game this week was with New Britain and it was played on the Coventry grounds before a crowd of 1,200. They saw good baseball mixed up with a lot of loose playing and throwing the ball around. Adams was the star of the game, except for one inning, when he gave three free passes, and the visitors had him in something of a bind. They rattled him in the ninth and he was what redeemed the game. It had all the features that the fan demands in the way of a spectacular finish. There was the bases full, and two men out, and the batter's last chance to be a hero. There was Russ, the big ringer New Britain twirler, determined to win the battle. The fans were wild when Hamel clouted the ball and exploded the game with the 10-7 score.

Goes to South Manchester.

Oscar Barrett, of Norwich, who has been employed for over a year at the Bossie company's velvet mill in this city, is to be transferred to the money broiler's mill at South Manchester, and will begin work there this morning.

Patient Improving.

Joseph Fregeau of Providence street, Tatfield, who has been at St. Joseph's hospital in this city for the past couple of weeks, is improving somewhat. He was threatened with blood poisoning and gangrene in one of his legs, but the treatment has apparently prevented the spread of the trouble. On Sunday he was visited by his excellent relatives and friends from Tatfield and other places.

Leaving for Baltimore.

Francis Chloine, of Broad street, who has recently completed a course of studies at St. Thomas' seminary in Hartford, is going to Baltimore this week to continue his preparation for the priesthood at St. Mary's seminary, after that course, which will be

Dr. Jordan's Pen Busy.

The Providence Sunday Journal has a thoughtful poem entitled "How Long, Oh Lord, How Long" by Dr. Jules Jordan. Dr. Jordan, who has been at work on a libretto dealing with a prominent historical character in New England life, has been requested by leading film company managers to utilize the story in scenario form, and may agree to their suggestions.

Attended Organ Dedication.

A number of Danielson people were at Waucho's organ evening to attend the services incident to the dedication of the new organ at the Sacred Heart church.

A section of the new paving near the Bradley building was put dressed on Saturday and will be ready to bear traffic within a very short time.

There are other jokes for a no-license town, aside from going out and ordering "a case" by pony express—the fact, for instance, of going to the store to order. If all stories are half true, the ponies are not the worst of the lot.

Grange Visitation.

Members of Brooklyn grange and of Killingly grange were visitors at a meeting of Highland grange at South Killingly Saturday evening.

Approximately 25 French-speaking residents of the town of Killingly expected to be naturalized citizens of the United States during the present month.

The Shore Line Electric company's cars are now at work on the trolley track south of the Main Street crossing and will probably finish making track renewals here this week.

Through his nomination as constable or the republican ticket, there is almost a certainty that former Deputy Sheriff Michael Grimshaw of Attitash will be a member of the town board of the officials of Killingly.

Six Candidates, Three Places.

With six candidates in the field, two each for the republicans, democrats, and progressives, there will be lively times selecting the three selectmen whom Killingly will elect at the annual town meeting. The campaigning is already underway. In this go the democrats have nothing to lose and much to gain, as they are at present without a representative on the board. Like some other things, Danielson has nothing to lose and much to gain in this season. A host of them were at Putnam Saturday afternoon, and trips to Moosup for Sunday ball two years in length, he will go to Montreal for his final work. Mr. Chilcote is a graduate of the Windham high school and among other things has been a member of the Windham flute playing while a member of the high school orchestra.

Dr. Jordan's Pen Busy. The Providence Sunday Journal has a thoughtful poem entitled "How Long, Oh Lord, How Long" by Dr. Jules Jordan. PUTNAM

Congregational Church to Observe Pastor's Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Sept. 25—Union Gideon Gospel Service—City Must Make Effort to Retain $10,000 Trade School Appropriation.

Mrs. W. J. Bartlett of this city is to speak before the members of Killingly grange at Danielson this evening. Julius Cordier of the police department has purchased a new touring car.

Slightly Improved. Mrs. Charles T. Thayer, critically ill at her home here, was reported as slightly improved Sunday.

Judge J. Harry Mann has closed his Gales Ferry summer cottage for the season this week.

George C. Willis of Loomister was a visitor with friends in Putnam Saturday.

Registrars Herman G. Carver and George Potvin are to receive applications of those who wish to be made voters Thursday of this week.

Resigns From Town Committee. Postmaster Alexander Gilman has resigned as a member of the democratic town committee and is succeeded by George Potvin, a well known party worker.

Miss Bertha L. Sargent was leader of the P. S. C. E. meeting at the Congregational church Sunday evening. The music was in charge of Miss Katherine Seward.

To Observe Pastor's Anniversary. The services at the Congregational church in observance of the silver anniversary of Rev. F. D. Sargent's pastorate are set for Sunday, September 25.

A number of owners of heavy cars in surrounding towns will take out licenses here to secure the right to carry passengers to the Woodstock fair.

Meeting on the Lawn. The Christian Endeavor meeting was held on the lawn at the Congregational church Sunday evening, earlier than usual on account of the rain service at the Congregational church.

A large number of Putnam people were at Wildwood park Saturday evening. Dancing is now the chief amusement there and the crowds indicate that it is very popular.

Moosup Shutout Southbridge. Local fans note with interest that the Moosup team shut out the American Optical company team at Southbridge Saturday afternoon, 5 to 0. Paddy Green did the pitching for Moosup and he was in grand form, Southbridge being able to do little with him when it came to bat.

The regular thing, Danielson is the one town of its size in this part of the state that is without a "big" team.

ROAD COMMISSIONER'S DUTIES

Defined by Frank A. Preston, Candidate For Such an Office if Instituted.

As a candidate for road commissioner, an office that it is proposed to create in the town of Killingly at the annual town meeting, Frank A. Preston issues the following statement to voters: Regarding a road commissioner and how the work under his care should be distributed, the voters should be divided among the farmers who have teams for such labor in their respective sections of the town, instead of having teams travel from one end of the town to the other to do work.

I also believe that the town can be saved a large amount of money in the repairs of the highways, such as gravel if not better roads than at present. I wish to make it plain that a commissioner of highways should be required to work 9 hours a week and paid for as such by the town.

In my opinion, more work can be accomplished with less driving of teams over the highway, such as is believed to have been done to some extent. It should be the duty of the highway commissioner to ride over the different highways of the town, seeing that they are in proper shape and to care for any needed repairs very rapidly. The team available nearest to the place where the repairs are to be made should be procured. It has been said that the repairs for roads in this town approximate $6,000, which is a large amount of money for this purpose in Killingly.

Another duty of the road commissioner should be to see that all bills for the repair of roads shall be returned to the town the first of each month, making a clear showing on the town reports for men and teams employed on the highways. And I believe that every fair-minded voter should vote in favor of having a highway commissioner for the welfare of the town in respect to highways.

(Signed.) FRANK E. PRESTON, Danielson, Sept. 11, 1915.

HEAVY WHEEL BURST.

Piece From Enslage Cutter Breaks Horse's Leg and Smashes the Silo.

While an ensilage cutter was running light preparatory to using it at the Thomas Talbot place on the Brooklyn highway, Saturday morning about 9 o'clock, a heavy wheel in the interior of the apparatus and to which the knives were attached flew to pieces and wrought such havoc that it resulted in the death of a horse owned by Adelbert Chase, who lives near The Pines, on the Brooklyn highway, and damage to the silo and the narrow escape of several men and another pair of horses from injury.

The reason for the bursting of a part of the machine, which was literally torn to pieces, remains a mystery. A gasoline engine, which was being used to develop power to drive the cutter, did not figure in any way in the accident, so far as has been learned.

When the cutter burst a heavy piece of metal flew and hit the Chase horse in the leg, nearly severing the member, as well as breaking it. The horse was shot later. Its value was about $150. One other piece of flying metal, weighing probably 15 pounds, struck against the silo, and it was comparatively new one, having been in use only two or three seasons.

OBITUARY. Mrs. Henry F. Brown, 71, widow of Henry F. Brown, died Sunday at her home in Webster. She was a resident here for many years, living in what is known as the old school house on West Side. She was born in Webster, the daughter of Uriah and Lydia (Irons) Gleason and was a sister of the late William Gleason, who died at the age of 90. She was the last of her family. The body is to be brought here tomorrow for burial.

Engagement Announced. The announcement of the engagement of Miss Diana Agass to Levi Benoit has been made. The wedding will take place in about a month.

Mrs. John Krauss has returned home after spending a week with her parents in Fall River, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Rockwell of Norfolk, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Rockwell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jason F. Lathrop.

Democratic Caucus Tonight. The first of the democratic caucuses will be held tonight at the town hall in Central Village. A lively time is anticipated. At the caucus there will probably develop in the battle between the Gorman and Coffey factions. A year ago Gorman, who held the selectman's job for some years, stepped out to let Coffey in, and this year Gorman's followers have urged their man to again try for the honors.

By placing but one name on the ticket, the leading democrats hope to give their man a better chance of winning.

Brakeman Instantly Killed. Cranston, R. I., Sept. 12.—Michael Collins, 32, a spare brakeman on a switching train, was instantly killed in the New Haven railroad yard at Auburn yesterday. He fell off the rear of his train into the path of an express which he did not see. Medical Examiner James L. Latham pronounced death due to accident. Collins lived in Providence and leaves a widow, and two children.

Zeppelin Raid a Failure. London, Sept. 12, 5:05 p. m.—An official statement issued here today says that another raid by Zeppelins on the east coast of England last night. Bombs were dropped by the aerial visitors, the statement says, but there were no casualties and no damage was caused.

Winsted—Secretary of State Charles D. Burnes, after having given a hearing on the case, has reversed decision as to the suspension of the license of Joseph Haddad of Winsted, driver of the car in which Miss Anna Poole was fatally injured on the Norfolk road.
